

Head and Neck Surgical Oncologist

McMaster University in conjunction with St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton is seeking an academic Otolaryngologist specializing in Head and Neck oncology. The Hamilton Otolaryngology - Head and Neck Program serves a catchment area of more than 2.5 million residents. The regional service also provides tertiary and quaternary level care to patients from other regions of the Province and plays an essential role in the support of several other regional programs. The regional Otolaryngology - Head and Neck service, together with the Department of Surgery, McMaster University is involved in undergraduate, post-graduate and continuing medical education programs.

The successful candidate will be expected to demonstrate experience and training in the management of Otolaryngology - Head and Neck disorders appropriate for an academic tertiary care level referral centre and will be Fellowship trained in Head and Neck Oncology. He/she will be expected to show evidence of exceptional interpersonal and collaborative skills with initiative to further advance the clinical and academic productivity and goals of the Otolaryngology - Head and Neck Program. This is a full-time faculty position in the Department of Surgery, Faculty of Health Sciences, McMaster University. A commitment and demonstrated interest in surgical education at all levels is essential, as well as active participation in research programs and academic initiatives of the Otolaryngology - Head and Neck Program. Individuals with leadership training and/or experience in leadership roles are encouraged to apply.

Applicants must have certification in Otolaryngology-Head and Neck surgery from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada (or equivalent) and be licensed or eligible for license in the Province of Ontario. Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be considered first for this position. To comply with the Government of Canada's reporting requirements, the University is obliged to gather information about applicants' status as either Permanent Residents of Canada or Canadian citizens. Applicants need not identify their country of origin or current citizenship; however, all applications must include one of the following statements: "Yes, I am a citizen or permanent resident of Canada" or "No, I am not a citizen or permanent resident of Canada"

Applications must include up-to-date curriculum vitae, and a description of previous academic experience, as well as of specialty training. This application will remain open until the position is filled. Submissions may be made to:
