

Apply Link: Pediatric and General Otolaryngology - Physician - Manhattan, NY in New York, New York | Mount Sinai

The Mount Sinai Health System Department of Otolaryngology – Head and Neck Surgery is seeking applications for full-time Pediatric and General Otolaryngologists to join the academic staff at the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai!

The Mount Sinai Health System’s Department of Otolaryngology – Head and Neck Surgery seeks Fellowship-trained Pediatric and General Otolaryngologists to manage care across the Mount Sinai Health System. The position offers faculty unparalleled opportunities in clinical care and research. Consistently ranked among the best by U.S. News & World Report, the Department demonstrates excellence in all facets of clinical care, education and research. The Head and Neck Institute, Ear Institute and Grabscheid Voice and Swallowing Center are internationally recognized for innovations and advancements in the field. Some of these include the first robotic surgery for oropharyngeal cancers in New York, endoscopic surgery for otologic tumors and transgender voice care. The Head and Neck Cancer Research Program has been in existence for more than 20 years and offers a wide breadth of groundbreaking clinical trials. Our faculty are also recognized leaders in skull base and sinus surgery, as well as microvascular reconstruction. They provide the highest level of multidisciplinary care and embrace teaching students and participating in vibrant research.

The Department of Otolaryngology is expanding its clinical practice throughout the 5 boroughs of New York City, Long Island and New Jersey. This position offers candidates an outstanding opportunity to join our team of highly specialized otolaryngologists who practice in modern state-of-the-art facilities within the Mount Sinai Health System and in our satellite practices. The physicians will provide the highest level of quality patient-centered healthcare and will embrace the teaching of medical students and residents, as well as participate in clinical research.

The Department is seeking qualified otolaryngologists in general and subspecialty training. The chosen candidates will have the opportunity to partner with world renowned, Icahn School of Medicine. Mount Sinai’s Department of Otolaryngology - Head and Neck Surgery is strongly committed to caring for the whole patient and places special emphasis on providing patient-centered care. The division embraces the mission of Icahn School of Medicine by pursuing an integrated approach to patient care, research, and education. We pursue all dimensions of these three components, considering them inseparable elements of the art and science of medicine.

Position Highlights:

- Employed full time position based at Mount Sinai Morningside
- Competitive compensation and benefits package

- Serve a diverse population and live in a region with excellent school districts and easy access to Manhattan
- Clinical Support staff: Nurses, and medical assistants
- EMR system: EPIC
- Teaching and or research opportunities available

Position Qualifications:

- Medical Degree from an Accredited University
- Able to obtain New York and New Jersey Medical Licenses
- Board Certified or Board Eligible in Otolaryngology
- Committed to Mount Sinai South Nassau and the communities we serve
- Excellent communication, bedside manner, and organizational skills
- A system work ethic and desire to participate in a team-oriented, performance driven health system

About the Mount Sinai Health System:

The Mount Sinai Health System is New York City's largest academic medical system, encompassing eight hospitals, a leading medical school, and a vast network of ambulatory practices throughout the greater New York region. Mount Sinai advances medicine and health through unrivaled education and translational research and discovery to deliver care that is the safest, highest-quality, most accessible and equitable, and the best value of any health system in the nation. The Health System includes approximately 7,300 primary and specialty care physicians; 13 joint-venture ambulatory surgery centers; more than 415 ambulatory practices throughout the five boroughs of New York City, Westchester, Long Island, and Florida; and more than 30 affiliated community health centers. The Mount Sinai Hospital is ranked on U.S. News &

World Report's "Honor Roll" of the top 20 U.S. hospitals and is top in the nation by specialty: No. 1 in Geriatrics and top 20 in Cardiology/Heart Surgery, Diabetes/Endocrinology, Gastroenterology/GI Surgery, Neurology/Neurosurgery, Orthopedics, ENT, Pulmonology/Lung Surgery, Rehabilitation, and Urology. New York Eye and Ear Infirmary of Mount Sinai is ranked No. 12 in Ophthalmology. Mount Sinai Kravis Children's Hospital is ranked in U.S. News & World Report's "Best Children's Hospitals" among the country's best in four out of 10 pediatric specialties. The Icahn School of Medicine is one of three medical schools that have earned distinction by multiple indicators: ranked in the top 20 by U.S. News & World Report's "Best Medical Schools," aligned with a U.S. News & World Report "Honor Roll" Hospital, and No. 14 in the nation for National Institutes of Health funding. Newsweek's "The World's Best Smart Hospitals" ranks The Mount Sinai Hospital as No. 1 in New York and in the top five globally, and Mount Sinai Morningside in the top 20 globally. For more information, visit <https://www.mountsinai.org> or find Mount Sinai on Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube.

The Mount Sinai Health System is an equal opportunity employer. We comply with applicable Federal civil rights laws and does not discriminate, exclude, or treat people differently on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, disability, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression.